They are in the process of gathering information from other groups in the area studying the issues related to developing proposals and meeting with the three possible providers of alternative energy sources for the State of New Hampshire. She noted the state regulations are not yet finalized for developing the process but was hopeful they would be set during the course of this year. The committee would anticipate holding two public hearings likely in February and October to outline their proposals with the possible goal of a Warrant Article for the 2023 Town Meeting. She will keep us updated as to their progress.

Gordon Peery came before the board to discuss the proposal of Nelson in Common overseeing the logistics of Old Home Days and also formerly taking over the History Website for the town. The Board agreed that this was a good idea. There was some discussion about Town funding for both of these endeavors. Although there is money available for both, more research was needed to determine the mechanisms by which that money could be accessed. In regards to Old Home Days he noted the plan was for a week of events throughout the town beginning on August 14th culminating with the main event, Saturday, August 20th.

Amy Whitney came before the Board to read and submit a letter into the record regarding her and Gary Robinson's request for an abatement in regards to the new assessment of their property. It was noted that Avitar had already reviewed this request twice and the request had been denied both times. However, they had agreed out of courtesy, to review it one last time. If the request is denied a third time, she was told her recourse was to apply to the Board of Land and Tax for the State of New Hampshire.
